GOVERNMENT OF INDIA

MINISTRY OF INDUSTRY

(Department of Industrial Development)

Central Boilers Board

New Delhi, 10th December, 1976

Notification

G. S. R. — Whereas certain draft regulations further to amend the Indian Boiler Regulations, 1950, were published as required by sub-section (i) of section 31 of the Indian Boilers Act, 1923 (5 of 1923), at pages 3495-96 of the Gazette of India, Part II—Section 3—Sub-section (i), dated the 13th December, 1975, under the notification of the Government of India in the late Ministry of Industry and Civil Supplies (Department of Industrial Development) No. GSR. 2846, dated the 27th November, 1975, inviting objections and suggestions from all persons likely to be affected thereby till the 13th March, 1976;

And Whereas the said Gazette was made available to the public on the 20th December, 1975;

And Whereas no objections or suggestions have been received;

Now, Therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 28 of the Indian Boilers Act, 1923 (5 of 1923), the Central Boilers Board hereby makes the following regulations, further to amend the Indian Boiler Regulations, 1950, namely:—

1.(1) These regulations may be called the Indian Boilers (Second Amendment) Regulations, 1976.

(2) They shall come into force on the date of their publication in the Official Gazette.

2. In regulation 290 of the Indian Boiler Regulations, 1950, for clause (c) and (d), the following clauses shall be substituted, namely:—

“(c) The working pressure and the thickness of the Bronze and Cast Iron Valve chests shall be determined by the following formulae, subject to the minimum thickness as specified in regulation 283(b):

$$WP = \frac{Rx (T-C)}{4.5 \times D} \dots\dots\dots \text{Eqn. (76)}$$

$$T = \frac{4.5 \times WP \times D}{R} + C \dots\dots\dots \text{Eqn. (77)}$$

Where R is the minimum specified tensile strength of the grade of the material,

D is the external diameter of the chest,

T is the minimum thickness of the chest, excluding tolerance and

C is the minimum positive tolerance as specified hereunder:—

For Bronze Chests  $C = 1.5 \text{ mm}$

For Cast Iron Chest  $C = 5 \text{ mm}$

(d) the working pressure and the thickness of the steel valve chests of circular cross section shall be determined by the following formulae, namely:—

$$\text{Working Pressure} = \frac{2f (T-C)}{D-T+C}$$

$$T = \frac{WP \times D}{2f + WP} + C$$

Where,

f=allowable stress in Kg/mm<sup>2</sup> for the material at the working metal temperature 't' to be determined on the basis given below:—

The allowable stress 'f' at or below 454°C is the lower of the following two values:—

$$f = \frac{R}{2.7} \qquad f = \frac{Et}{1.6}$$

For temperature above 454°C, the lowest of the following four values:—

$$f = \frac{R}{2.7} \qquad f = \frac{Et}{1.6}$$

$$f = \frac{SR}{1.6} \qquad f = \frac{SC}{1.0}$$

Where,

Et=Minimum Value of yield point (0.2 percent proof stress at temperature t.

R=Minimum specified tensile strength for the grade of steel concerned at room temperature.

SR=the average stress for the grade of steel concerned to produce rupture in 100,000 hours.

If the width of the scatter band of results obtained when determining this value exceeds + 20 percent of the average value, then SR shall be taken as 1.25 times the minimum stress at temperature 't' to produce rupture in 100,000 hours.

SC=the average stress to produce an elongation (creep) for the grade of steel concerned of 1 percent in 100,000 hours at temperature 't'. For metal temperature 't' below 250°C values of 'f' for 250°C shall be used.

Note.— The allowable stress for cast steel shall be 80 percent of that determined on the above basis.

D=the  $\times \times$  external diameter of the chest.

T=the minimum thickness of the chest, excluding tolerance and

C=the minimum positive tolerance as specified hereunder:

For cast steel chest  $C = 5 \text{ mm}$ .

For forged or stainless steel chest  $C = 2.5 \text{ mm}$ .

Note. — Over and above the calculated thickness, additional thickness needed for assembly stresses, Valve closing stresses, shapes other than circular and stress concentrations shall be provided by the manufacturers to the satisfaction of the Inspecting Authority."

With regard to alloy steel pipes and tubes, the bend test specimen shall be bent without being straightened, but after removal of the weld reinforcement down to the level of but not below the surface, round a former of diameter 4 t and through an angle of 90 degree. The bending may be carried out by blows or by pressure. Care shall be taken to ensure that the former is so positioned that the weld is maintained at the crown of the bend. The test specimen shall be capable of being bent through 90 degree without signs of failure, although slight premature failure at the edges of a specimen need not be considered a cause for rejection. The opening out of a slight defect due to incomplete root penetration or lack of root fusion need not be considered a cause for rejection, provided the defect has sound metal at the back and on either side of it".
